Symposium on Gender Equity and Global Reproductive Health
March 19-21, 2014 in San Diego, CA

The Symposium on Gender Equity and Global Reproductive Health will be a gathering of researchers, practitioners, and leaders who work in the intersecting areas of gender equity and reproductive health and family planning, with the goal of developing a collaborative network of scholars, and practitioners at all career levels to advance science, policy and practice in this field. The meeting will be held in San Diego, California. California has long been at the forefront of advancing reproductive health practice and policies that support the safety and choices of women and girls, and this symposium seeks to capitalize on the current high interest in these issues globally. In addition, it aims to raise the collective profile of collaborative work with key stakeholders within the United States and partner countries, as well as within the University of California as a leading source of critical scholarship in the field. We invite scholars, practitioners, and advocates across the globe to participate in this important event.

The Symposium will include:
- Lightning presentations from key leaders in the areas of research and evidence-based program and policy, highlighting cutting edge study findings and innovative solutions.
- Poster presentations from promising new scholars in the field.
- Panels with representatives from donor agencies and other funders and with representatives from local best policy and practice efforts focused on family planning, reproductive health, youth programs, and gender equity.
- Networking opportunities for donors, scholars, practitioners, advocates and policy experts to discuss key issues of gender equity and global reproductive health.
